Two of our local boys who have seen combat service overseas, Top Sergeant James Vann and Seaman Thomas Fennell are pictured above. Sgt. Vann, called into service at the beginning of the war, trained at Aberdeen, Md., and was then sent there to fight for duty in the South Pacific where he served for over three years, including the last two years in four major combats; his last battle being the spectacular landing on the Philippines the early part of 1945. Sgt. Vann is now in need of signs of home and friends. Sgt. Vann was one of the lucky ones who was able to get the "hot" system to be drawn for return to the States, and early in January landed in San Francisco and is now in the States on home rest and tentative inactive duty. Sgt. Vann is now stationed at Fort Dix after having spent a two weeks' rest cure at the Army's Lake Placid station. Sgt. Vann is a very friendly, outgoing, and hospitable person, and is showered on men returning from overseas. Sgt. Vann is a very good looking fellow, and has the same familiar figure that friends in his old familiar haunts where his presence is greeted warmly by old friends. Sgt. Vann is now seen in and around the town of his day's off from camp, can be found visiting with his development officer, Capt. James H. Huntington, N.E. Seaman Thomas Fennell is expected to Top Sgt. Vann in the States. Sgt. Fennell was in the European battle area for over two years, and during this time was home on a 15-day leave, his last leave being a recently returned leave to the States.

Two Negroes Talk Filipino Out Of Jim Crowism

Senora Cries When Told Of Lincoln And Why We're Fighting

Margarita Velez, dusky 38-year-old Filipino restaurant keeper and the mother of three young girls, today provided the Jim Crow issue of the Philippine liberation campaign, according to a story by Guy Richards, of the N. Y. Daily News. Over her doors on the Ascarage she had put up this carefully-painted sign: "We cater to white service men only."

Then the storm clouds gathered. She took the sign down and tore it up, however, after listening to two expositions of our nation's purpose in freeing the Philippines, speeches delivered by Billy Rowe of the Pittsburgh Courier and Charles Loeb of the combined Negro press, two Negro comrades accredited to GHQ.

I spotted the sign after coming down from the Benguet Mountains for mail and clean shirts. I couldn't believe my eyes.

Elastic Color Line
Inside Margarita's none too sumptuous bistro I saw a Filipino soldier, a Negro soldier, a white soldier, and a Chinese soldier. They were all eating and drinking. I saw a Negro soldier and a white soldier. They were all eating and drinking. I saw a Negro soldier and a white soldier. They were all eating and drinking.

When we arrived at the restaurant Loeb photographed the sign for posterity and we went inside. Margarita flashed gold teeth against a skin of color or black molasses.

I had that sign painted and put up because a white soldier—augmented it," she explained. "He's a good customer and said he didn't want any Negroes in here. When I tried to keep them away by just talking they would get angry and threaten to fight this man. This is not my idea, but how else can I keep them out?"

Then Loeb went to town. Customers, listened and even Filipino soldiers came in from the street as the sign was being torn down.

asked the Senora how she would like to fight for a country like America and then, at the first hotel she went to in the sign reading: "We cater to white service men only."

Or how would she like to be told at a food station: "Filipinos can't eat?" he demanded.

Cites Abraham Lincoln
Rowe took over. He pointed out that there might be a few prejudiced Americans who would like to join the Nazis or Japs but that most Americans were fighting for the only and equality exemplified by Abraham Lincoln. If the Americans didn't feel that way, he continued, they—Negro and white—would never have fought their way back here and freed the Philippines.

The Senora started to cry. She sent out for the sign and tore it up.

Court St. 'Y' To Sponsor Forum On City Government

The Court Street Y. M. C. A. will sponsor the second in a series of Public Affairs Forum at the Branch 133 Court street, Newark on Sunday April 8th at 4:00 p. m. The first forum, "The Negro in Newark," was held on March 26th.

The Y. M. C. A. is sponsoring the forum to bring the public into contact with the city government. The first forum was centered around the presidential election and explained the important issue involved. The April 8th forum has been planned to enable citizens to better understand how the city of Newark is run.

The speakers will discuss the part the Negro is playing in Newark's city government and his prospects for the future. Heading the list of speakers is Mayor Vincent J. Murphy, who will discuss the functions of the Department of Revenue and Finance. Commissioner John A. Brady will explain the workings of the Department of Public Affairs, and Luke Kiernan, secretary to Commissioner John A. Brady, will discuss the Department of Public Safety. Oliver W. Brown, recreation specialist in the Department of Parks and Public Baths will speak concerning the department in which he is employed.

Music will be rendered by the Junior Choir of St. James A. M. E. Church. Roger M. Yancey, Dr. Arthur Dr. James O. Hill is chairman. Members include Dr. E. B. Parks.

Musical Program By Bayonne Nurses

BAYONNE—A rare musical program will be held on Friday evening, April 6, when the Bayonne Temple No. 366, Health Department—Carter Unit, presented the Co-Operative Quartette League, Branch No. 1, of New Jersey.

The event, which will take place at Philip G. Vroom School, Broadway and 26th streets, will feature the outstanding quartettes of New Jersey and New York, and also Gospel Soloists. Honored guests will be the Gospel Chorus of Anglican Baptist Church.

Proceeds are for the benefit of the Health Department of N. J. S. Association.

Officers are: Mr. Walter Simmons, Exalted Ruler; Mrs. Pearl Jenkins, Daughter Ruler and General Chairman of State; Mrs. Charlie V. Jones, State President; Samuel H. Taliaferro, President of Co-Operative League; Maude Roach, mistress of ceremonies; Dr. C. M. Jones, guest speaker.

Jolly Fifteen Of Roselle Held St. Patrick Cocktail

ROSELLE—The Jolly Fifteen of St. Patrick's held a St. Patrick's cocktail party at the residence of Daughter Emma Turner.

Guests were present from New York City, East Orange, Jersey City, Newark, Elizabeth, Yonkers, Haledon, Springfield, Westfield, Plainfield, Trenton, and Roselle.

Daughter Turner was chairman of the affair; Daughter A. Bauer, secretary, and Daughter Ruth is Daughter Ruler of the Temple.

Jersey City "Y" Shows Exhibit

JERSEY CITY—An exhibit "The Negro in American Life" will be on display at the House of Friendship Y. M. C. A., 43 Belmont avenue, beginning this week.

The exhibit is considered one of the best in existence. It shows the Negro's background and cultural contributions to American life, his equality in "I. Q." his patriotic record and points the interest toward better race relations.

The public is invited to see this exhibit any day, or evening.

Drinking Rum and Coca Cola

By DICK EDWARDS

"Now listen copper, the answer is the same. I don't know anything about any killing in Philly. I am still the guy you've been trying to pin so."

The headlines will read the "Mighty" Charles Milligan again proved innocent?—Milligan as the inspector coolly eyed the hundred pounds, neatly poured frame.

Inspector Vaughan was silent. Then he said, "Milligan, you're in the clear, you're free. You're free."

"You told me that twenty-seven years before," Inspector Vaughan said. "And you always had an iron-clad alibi," smiled the inspector. Charles Milligan looked at him in a new light.

That was something new because when he was picked up here, the cops would have a worried expression. This flatfoot had something, or thought he did.

"Murder is serious business," said the inspector. "Ain't it, the truth, Inspector. Planning to kill somebody?"

"No. That's a bank teller you shot at."

in Philly yesterday, died this morning.

"Now listen inspector Vaughan, I don't know nothing about any killing in Philly—yesterday or any other day."

"Where were you at four p.m. yesterday?"

"Oh, inspector, You really let me down. I was at the race track with Teddy Grove and Lou Pugsley. They are two gentlemen of repute. Pick up the phone and check."

Inspector Vaughan was all smiles, again and the "Mighty" Milligan became a little dubious about getting out of this jam. He licked his lips and mopped his brow.

"Getting warm," asked the inspector. "I'll open a window. There. Feel better?"

Milligan dropped all pretense and snarled, "Spill it copper. Cut the drams."

"Plenty of time, Charles. You know a police inspector always has a plenty of time. Now remember—"

"Check my alibi, so I can get out of here."

"What has become of your manners? You never were rude before, Charles. You really pain me. The inspector deliberated. Check it, me."

"By the way, I'm not going to check that alibi. That's a good and smilingly asked, 'May I go now copper?'"

"Then I'll be going. You know where to find me if you want me. Not so fast, my brain-friend. You are not going and I will know where to find you. You'll be in jail on a murder rap."

"I'm listening copper," Charles folded his powerful hands and waited.

With a slowness that was maddening, Inspector Vaughan reached into a desk drawer and pulled out an empty bottle.

"Ever see this before?"

"It's a coca-cola bottle."

"Yeah, found it in your car."

"So?"

"With your fingerprints on it. That's it—every shred."

Charles laughed so loudly that the halls outside of the inspector's office rang to the sound of it.

"You really grow funnier with the years inspector. Suppose I demand that I bought that bottle of coca-cola at Levy's yesterday and made a run and coke yesterday. Do you mind?"

"You made one mistake, Milligan. You admit you bought that bottle of coca-cola, but you didn't buy it at Levy's."

"No."

"Inspector Vaughan was grinning cruelly now. He had the mit that I bought that bottle of coca-cola at Levy's yesterday and made a run and coke yesterday. Do you mind?"

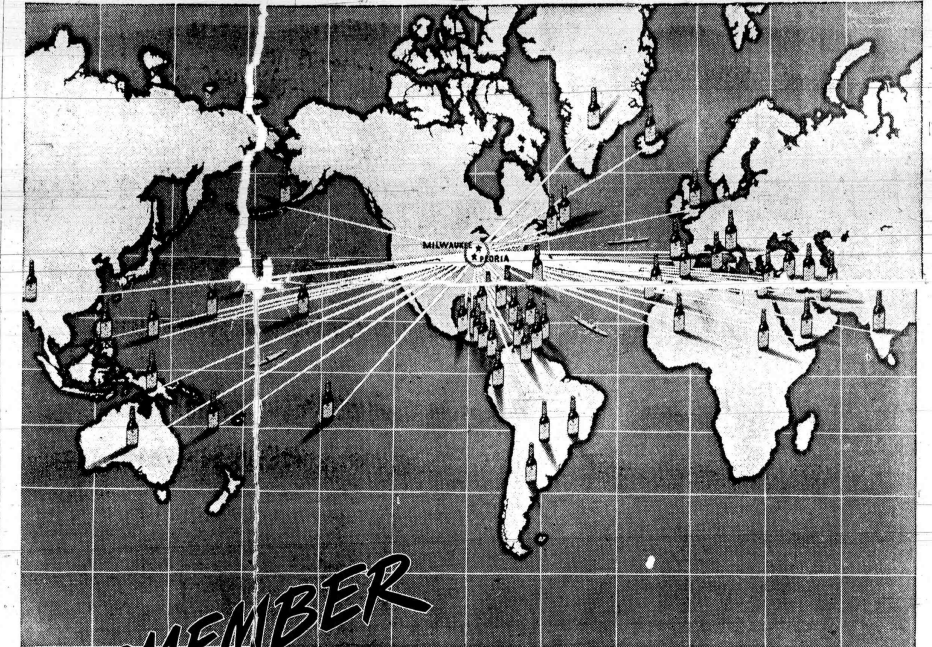

"Inspector, I'm going to give you a break. You found this bottle in the back of my car on the floor, didn't you?"

"Right."

"Well, call in a secretary. I'll open a bottle and you'll have your answer, stupid. Take him on back guard. I'm making him for the murder of that bank clerk in Philadelphia."

Charles Milligan signed the statement.

OCEAN AVENUE CHURCH

Jesus to God in the highest.
Christ is risen. Our circle was broken again in the death of Mrs.
Martha Royster who passed away in the Medical Center on March 24 after a short illness. Our pastor officiated at her funeral on last Thursday at our church. She was one of our oldest members in age as well as in Christian service, having been among us for 27 years serving at one time as president of the Pastor's Aid Society and in that organization for 10 years. We shall miss her quiet unassuming personality as we bow in humble submission to God's will.

Easter was a very unusual occasion being Holy Communion and Resurrection Day in one, a glorious celebration which occurs about once in 7 years. Inspiring Prayer and Covenant Services were held Thursday and Friday nights and Sunrise Easter A. M.
At 11 a. m. service our beloved minister was profound in telling the Old story on "The Proof of the Resurrection." St.
Matt. 28:1. Visitors were Mrs.
Adrian Rivers of Boston, Mass.,
Steward 3rd class James Corbin of the South-Pacific, and St.

Julius W. Ford Jr., back wound from Italy.
The little ones in the Sunday School had a fine exercise at 10 supervised by their teachers, and presented by Miss J. Snow, mistress of ceremonies.
A glorious communion followed a glorious counting of our blessings before the Lord's Supper.
At the Eve of the Annual Re-demptor of the cantata, "The First Easter" was a treat sung by our choir. Soloists were Mesdames M. Hendrickson R. J. Couch, as-soprano W. Wilcher, alto, and Mr.
W. Blue, tenor. Deacon Mayfield is chorister so untiring. Miss M. Beckwith was at the piano.
Meet us next Sunday and receive a blessing.

SHARON BAPTIST CHURCH
697 Ocean Avenue, Jersey City
Rev. D. W. EVANS, Pastor
Miss Martha Dixon, reporter
Easter Sunday service was opened with the Sunrise Prayer Service by Deacon Perry Maxwell and many soul-lifting prayers and testimonies were given. It was indeed a spiritual uplift. At 11 a. m. the morning worship was opened with the choir procession and invocation by Deacon Maxwell, after which the choir rendered a beautiful anthem. Prayer was offered for the boys and girls in the armed forces, after which Rev.
T. Rankin read the Scripture lesson. Miss P. E. Brightness then sang a solo, "Where is Thy God,
When They Crucified My Lord?"
The subject of the pastor's message was "The Crucifixion," taken from John 19th chapter. The theme was "The Resurrection," found in Mark 16:16. The pastor's kind rendering description of the death of Jesus brought tears to everyone's eyes and then his story of the Risen Savior brought new spiritual joy. Three members were added to the church roll.

Evening service was in charge of Trustee Mary Dickerson who presented "The Morning Star" Quartet of Jersey City, and as usual they kept the spirit with their Gospel songs.
Mrs. Marie Mack, superintendent of the Sunday School, is ill in the Medical Center.

REV. H. S. GRAVES, Pastor
At 11 a. m. the pastor brought the Easter message. His text was found in 1st Corinthians 15:20.
"But now a Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that sleep." Topic: "The Risen Christ." Today we are serving a risen Christ. He is rising to our aid on every hand. Just as He arose on Easter over two thousand years ago.
At 12:30 p. m. we served our Lord's Supper. We were thankful to see the fourth milestone in the year.
At 3:30 p. m. Rev. D. H. Smith of Union Baptist Church, Bloomfield, preached our anniversary and dedication service. He really set our souls on fire. This service was followed by our counselor J. Mercer Burrell. Then our pastor gave us his message.
He wants to thank his members that have stuck by him during these nine years. It was impossible to name each member and their work, but he did serve his part to bring about this great occasion. His heart was overjoyed and it was one of the loveliest services he had ever known.

At 5 p. m. we had our mortgage burning and turning over the deeds by J. Mercer Burrell, followed by technical services taken of the church by Mr. J. Ridley, a member of the church. The loveliest service he had ever known.

Harry Clark Given Divorce From Wife

EAST ORANGE — A divorce was awarded to Mr. Harry Clark of 316 Haledale Street, from his wife, Mrs. Frances Clark of 344 Nassau street, Orange, by Judge Matthews, on the grounds of desertion.

Mr. Clark, a well-known business man in this community, was recently honorably discharged from the U. S. Army — after receiving injuries in maneuvers.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Holmes Entertained By Daughter

TRENTON — Mr. and Mrs. Allen Holmes, 124 Spring street, entertained recently in honor of their daughter, Ruby V. Among the guests present were: Lois Stewart, Victoria Dent, Doris and Marie Blackwell — Becky Chambers, Victoria Brooks, Catherine Willets; Sgt. Jones, Sgt. McTurk and Sgt. Chetco.

NEWARK — The four candidates for City Commission election, running on the United Citizens Ticket, were introduced last Sunday evening before an audience of over five hundred persons at the Gospel Temple Church, of which Elder Brodie is pastor.

CARD OF THANKS

JONES — The family of the late Mrs. Felly Jones takes this means to express their sincere thanks for the sympathy and kindness shown them by their relatives and friends and the many floral tributes in the death of their mother, who departed this life on March 26.

Special thanks are extended to Rev. D. L. Davis, pastor of Israel Memorial A.M.E. Church, the Stewardess Board of the Church who served as pallbearers and Mortician John M. Dabney, for his efficient service.

Signed: Children
Mrs. Chattie Newberry
Mr. Fred Jones
Miss Mary Jones
Mr. Sanders Jones

Sponsors Health, Education Program

ORANGE — Ultra Lodge of Elks, with the Amanaite and Artu Temples, will sponsor an Elks Health and Educational Program, Sunday April 8th, at 3:30 P. M. at the Y. M. C. A., Oakwood avenue.

Principal speakers will be Dr. B. C. Isaac, Dr. John W. Alexander, Dr. Harold Scott and Dr. Royal Alexander.

Courtesy Haas is chairman of the committee, with Dr. Walter G. Alexander as honorary chairman.

NORTH JERSEY BRANCH OF NAT'L ASSN. COLLEGE WOMEN

NEWARK — The North Jersey Branch of the National Association of College Women held a drawing at the Sojourner Truth street, recently in order to determine the winners of their Sale of Chances for a war bond and war stamps. This was conducted for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund, which was set up seven years ago.

The winners were: Dave Elam of Newark, first prize $25.00 war bond; Lt. Jewel Hortense Pharris of the W.A.C., Fort Dix, second prize $10.00 war stamps and third prize, $5.00 war stamps, Annie S. Winston of New York.

On March 25 the Branch held a business meeting at the residence of Miss Marion Scott, 38 Irving street, Montclair. The hostesses were Misses Daisy Alexander, Marion Scott, Mesdames Hortense Tate and Gwendyth Hurling. The next meeting in April will be primarily a membership meeting, at which time those eligible for membership will either be invited to attend or may contact any member of the Branch concerning any information desired.

The meeting in May will be planned and conducted by the Guidance Committee, which is in charge of the Seventh Annual Guidance Program. This project was initiated to assist and guide young people attending high school.

In the fall the Branch is planning to present a concert. The choice of artist has not as yet been decided but watch your paper for announcements.

It is the aim of the Salvation Army, with the aid of the Professional Staff and Volunteers to make this club a home away from home.

Miss Queen Of High Schools To Be Crowned At Ball Fri.

"Who is 'Miss Queen of High Schools'?" That is the question that is on the minds of thousands of persons today who have been following this great contest. The answer to this question will be given Friday night when the victress will be crowned in glory and splendor at the Coronation Ball at the Graham Building.

This contest has been hotly contested throughout and the winner was in doubt right up until the last minute. The suspense of knowing the winner has caused many a supporter of the leading contenders a number of sleepless nights. That is reason a capacity crowd will be on hand Friday night to learn the name of the winner and to see her crowned.

All roads will lead to Graham Building Friday night for this gala affair which promises to be one of the most elaborate and picturesque Newark has ever seen. Will be seeing you QUEEN.

would not make his suffering any better if he would jump off the Brooklyn Bridge as he was thinking. Yet, it was not one of his brothers that considered him a humble little COLORED LADY who told him, "Son, you are too young to even think about dying. You are a little daughter, you don't want you to do such a thing."

That lady out of all the ones that listened to his story gave him more consolation than any white that he had tried to talk to. In fact, some of them had even listened to him.

Mandy Ross played at the Golden Gate Ballroom in New York to a crowd that is much too much to even try to describe. The Ross sang was on the same bill with Billy Eckstine and his band. That boy is on his fine....

Last Monday was spent in the groove and it was really goovy. Had dinner with Lucky and his little wife who is so nice and very sweet. You must not be surprised by anyone with such a fine taste for music must certainly have a taste for the glamour sex of the sexes....

There is another cat with Lucky that you should know about. They call him Bull Moose, his name is really Ben Jackson and he hails from Ohio, plays tenor sax and sings "Sweet Summer" as only he and Trevor Bacon could. That voice is a hellow baritone like the one you only know about. He has the voice that makes the bobby sockers swoon, yes sir, Ben's got it and gone....

What goes with the songs to do? First you got to content your self with a 3A or a worn out 4F and then they tell you that men are as rare as rhinos. What will be next? There must be something for the girls to sing about or is it? The question is to be or not to be, or should it remain that you can't get that no more.

There is a lassie that slogs cars at night to see if she knows any one in the car, I wonder, has she been assigned by the law to do same or is that extra duty because she is a beautician. What's up Doc?

Don't you know a war is on and every thing is rationed, I like that little line it is so petite, so great, so unnecessary and etc. It hits the Spot the same as Ida sings of his fellow man could James "I didn't say no, but I didn't say I would." That's sing lost and to make him see that he ing like mad.... Oh but it is....

Monday night is Men's Night at Carver Center with a recreational program from 9 to 11 p. m. under the direction of a Committee headed by C. Summer Freeman. Activities include volleyball, chess, checkers, ping pong, pool and numerous other games of interest to men.

Also Monday night, The Esquire All Stars defeated the Senior High School's 37-35. Mrs. Anna Higginbotham, Red Cross Worker, just returned from overseas spoke to the Junior Co-Ed Club which had as visiting guest a group of State Teachers College students on Monday.

Tuesday evening the Loyal Sixteen and L'Overture H-Y combined their groups to hear and they had State Teacher's students and visiting guests and observers of group workers.

The Eighth Grade Co-Ed Club sponsored a Teen Age Dance of Junior high school clubs on Wednesday.

The G.O.C.C. held a dance on Thursday night to aid the wounded veterans of World War II.

City Playground
Work started Friday on vacant lots adjoining Carver Center on Willow Street to transform it into a playground. A huge bulldozer is at work leveling off the ground in order that it may be uniform in appearance.

Plans call for planting of trees and shrubbery and beautifying the grounds. There will be swings, see-saws, slide, basketball and sprinkler for the children of the community.

Carver Center is conducting its membership enrollment with an overall objective of 1000 members, under the leadership of John D. Hopkins as "Commander in Chief" of an "Army Navy" set up with S. J. Ewome and Peyton Manning as Associate. Moses Johnson and E. Hart Hill "Navy Admirals".

They are aided by a large number of "Captains" and Lieutenants. Membership is open to men and women, boys and girls.

Their slogan is three letters, J. C. which means Join Carver Center.

Already, groups of men and women who meet regularly in the building are enrolling. Among them are the Men's Progressive Club, the Fal Ho-Cha Club, the Negro Business and Professional Women's Club and others including boys and girls' clubs.

In but little over a year's operation Carver Center has provided an extensive program for young people and adults. This has included charitable, social, educational, spiritual, physical and welfare activities.

Among these have been events to aid wounded soldiers, teen age dances weekly parties and socials, lectures and group discussions, occasional church services by interdenominational groups, basketball games for boys and girls, men and women and free gym periods every week-day for all age groups.

A Chest X-ray Survey was made by the State of New Jersey and health talks and lectures given by doctors.

Community groups hold meetings in Carver Center ranging from Committees of four or five to large meetings of four or five hundred persons.

Cpl. Lewis Milton, formerly of Pittsburgh, Pa. and who has served overseas for 2 1/2 years in Africa, England, and Italy, has returned to Trenton for a 37 day furlough.

The Junior Co-Ed Club of the Carver Branch Y.M.C.A. entertained their friends with a cake and coffee party—Saturday evening at Mrs. Maggie Berry's home on Walnut Avenue. Over twenty members and their guests were present. Mrs. Mabel Pickens, is advisor to the club.

Fifteen students of the State Teachers College and two faculty members—visited Carver Center, Tuesday night, March 27th and observed the meeting of the L'Overture H-Y and the Junior Co-Ed Group. They also stayed to attend a basketball game between the Carver Center Corettes and the Princeton Y.W.C.A. following the activities the group were served refreshments.

Other meetings during the week have been the Carver Center Board of Governors, Eighth Grade Co-Ed, Jolly Jesters, True Friends, Jr. Co-Ed, Boy Scouts, Y.M.C.A. Band, Men's Progressive Club and Business and Professional Women's Club.

For two successive Monday Men's Night has been held at Carver Center under the direction of the Committee of which C. Summer Freeman is Chairman. They have enjoyed volleyball, ping pong, rubber Quits, Pool, Pinchle, whist, checkers and other games.

Thursday night was community night for men and women working in the Membership Campaign whose goal is 1000 members.

Trenton is looking forward to seeing the King of the Vibraphone, Lionel Hampton at the Memorial Building in April. With Hampton is Rubel Blakey, Diana Washington, Herbie Fields, and others.

Here is a pictorial display of activities of Salvation Army's Servicemen's Center, located at 224 West 124th street in the heart of Harlem. Upper left shows Brigadier Harold Smith, Director of the center. Below him is the bi-racial committee of management: front row, Walter Taft, Chairman R. Eubanks, Director Roark, Colonel Marshall, Judge Francis Rivers, Rev. J. A. Robinson; back row, Major Mahon, Brigadier Smith, Goodhue Livingston Jr., secretary to Mayor LaGuardia, and Witter Hoving, president of Lord & Taylor. Top right shows a few of the 1,000 specially trained hostesses who devoted their time toward making furloughs a pleasure for the G.I.s who visit the center. Lower right is Gladys P. Graham, director of Public Relations and Bob Howard in a recent broadcast on the latter's "Open House In Harlem" radio program. Many stars of stage, screen and radio volunteer their staff at work getting out programs of the center for disservice to the center. Inset shows the public relations tribulation to service men and women in outlying districts.

Cpl. Bill Jones Of Orange Along New China Route

AN SOS BASE ALONG THE STILLWELL ROAD — Technician 5th Grade (Corporal) William E. Jones, formerly of 227 Wallace street, whose brother, Joseph H. Jones, resides at 48 Milligan place, Orange, is a member of a well known Negro Quartermaster Trucking Company that has been performing notable service along this new route to China for the past 15 months.

The great highway, sometimes called "Pick's Pike" after Brig. General Lewis A. Pick, famous Army engineer who designed the building of the important supply artery, follows a course from the rail head of Leno in outer Assam, India, across the rugged, forbidding Patkai Hills to the Irrawaddy River, part of Myitkyna, through Burma's dense jungles to Bhamo and Nankham, on to Mongon near the China - Burma border where the route merges with the old Burma Road.

Jones' outfit has been through many rough days, supplying troops in the forward areas in Burma with food, ammunition and war materials. It's a constant grind.

Cpl. McGriff Returns To Base

ORANGE — Corporal Daniel F. McGriff, returned to his base, Sausalito, Calif., last week after spending a leave of fifteen days furlough, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. McGriff, 218 Wallace street.

The only disappointment over his Easter furlough was the absence of brother John B., who is now serving in the armed forces somewhere in France.

Newark Eagles Off To Training Camp

NEWARK—Early Easter Sunday morning the vanguard of the Newark Eagles 1945 baseball team left for Richmond, Va., spring training, and they will be followed next week-end by the other team members. As things are shaping up, it looks like Mrs. Effa Manley, team owner, will this year have one of the greatest combinations in the Eagles' history.

Willie Wells, the ace shortstop; first baseman, Lennie Pearson; Pitchers, Johnnie Davis, Robert Harvey, and Donald Newcombe; and Francis Matthews, who has been in war work up in Massachusetts, were the first group to leave for Richmond.

Ray Danridge, the second baseman, is expected to join this group in the next few days. If he does, this will give the Eagles that veteran and signed up for the seven months season there.

Terrice McDuffie, last season's colorful pitcher with the Eagles has returned from his winter season in Puerto Rico. His plans for this year are not known, although he agreed this week to give an interview which he said would contain "hot" news.

This season the Eagles have several night games scheduled for the Polo Grounds in New York and others scheduled for Brooklyn. Last season's success of local night games has moved Mrs. Manley to consider the possibility of staging more than one such game weekly when the Eagles are home.

Opening day at Rupert Stadium, expected this year to excel all others of the past, is May 6th. Before then, the Eagles will meet the Homestead Grays and other teams in Southern practice games.

Recent WMC ruling that players can leave war jobs for the baseball season lifted a heavy load of worry from Mrs. Manley and all team owners in the NNL, NAL as well as the two new circuits organized this year.

The Eagles will be able to wear new uniforms this season following less stringent scarcities of materials.

Mrs. Manley delayed any announcement on whom will manage the team this season, but indicated a statement on this will be made shortly.

Elite Giants Start Spring Training

By J. C. CHUNN

ATLANTA, GA.—Business Manager Vernon Green of the Baltimore Elite Giants "front office" opened his spring training period here last Monday afternoon with ten members of the club going through regular calisthenics and limbering up drills in preparation for the Negro National League pennant chase this season.

Manager Felton Snow, let the men present through the regular drills, working enthusiastically with one of the best squads the team has had since 1939 when the Elite Giants won the National League pennant. Ten men greeted the widely known manager upon his arrival here.

Outstanding among the first men reporting for the spring trials was Arehler Hinton, the Santa Monica, California rookie who came to the Baltimore club well recommended after playing in the coast winter league last winter. The youngster can play third-base and is a good outfielder. Just what position Manager Snow will use him has not been said at this time, but indications are that he can play either equally as well. His batting has been good so far, but only two days of batting practice have been held. His fielding has been everything that has been said about him and it is believed that he will make the grade in trying colors.

Thomas (Peayee) Buttan shortstop; Henry Kimbro, third base; Robert Wesley; William Haskins; Wesley Dennis, first base; Robinson, right-field; pitcher and pitchers in Smith opened up the 1945 Harry Williams, set center-fielder; Porter, pitcher, Don-ald Roy, pitcher, William Byrd, Walker and one or more are expected to be the game with the Black Crackers Eastern Sunday in Atlanta.

Wash. Bears Beat Orange Triangles

Despite a 21-point plunge by Lenny Pearson, the Orange Triangles absorbed a 37-47 defeat at the hands of the Washington Bears in their closing basketball game Saturday night at the Orange Army. Pearson bagged 13 points in the last half, but it wasn't enough to overcome the Bears' 10-point lead.

"Pop" Gates paced Washington's attack with 17 points, while Dolly King, former L.I.U. star, contributed 14. It was the Bears' second win over the Orange quintet this year.

Kimbro Suffers Arm Injury

ATLANTA — Henry Kimbro, brilliant center-fielder for the Baltimore Elite lashed here today and a small broken bone in his right arm was revealed. This incident was a severe shock to the team and Business Manager Green, who is known for his youthful star and the lineup at least a month. The first casualty of the Baltimore Elite club center-fielder, Harry Kimbro, manager and Clark, catcher, left-field: base; Norman and Thomas Robinson, right-field; pitcher and pitchers in Smith opened up the 1945 Harry Williams, set center-fielder; Porter, pitcher, Don-ald Roy, pitcher, William Byrd, Walker and one or more are expected to be the game with the Black Crackers Eastern Sunday in Atlanta.
